

The Playoffs Are On With $10,000,000 at Stake!

The Legends Reno-Tahoe Open is proud that several contenders of the 2009 FedExCup competition have been golfers right here in our community, at the pristine Montréux Golf & Country Club. 2009 Legends Reno-Tahoe Open alumni Daniel Chopra, John Mallinger, James Nitties, Greg Owen, Kevin Na, Jonathan Byrd, Rod Pampling, Scott McCarron, Marc Leishman, Heath Slocum (winner of Barclays 2009 playoff event), Kevin Sadler, Charlie Wi, Mark Wilson and 2009 LRTO Champion John Rollins are all still in contention for the FedExCup. The winner of the 2009 LRTO received 250 points toward the goal of attaining the coveted prize and we hope that helped this year's LRTO winner, John Rollins, in his quest for the Cup.

If you happened by the Legends Reno-Tahoe Open last month then you had the opportunity to spy the most coveted prize in golf – the FedExCup itself was on display. The Tiffany & Co. silver cup is valued not only for its beauty, but because it is awarded to the single golf professional who had the most impressive season competing on the PGA TOUR; in other words, major bragging rights. Oh, and a cool $10 million doesn't hurt.

FedExCup points stats change weekly, but it's getting down to the wire with three FedExCup events left in the season. The prestigious prize will be awarded at the conclusion of THE TOUR Championship on September 27, 2009. Will a Legends Reno-Tahoe Open alum win? Will it be 2009 LRTO Champ John Rollins, or perhaps LRTO alum Heath Slocum, who has already won the first of the 2009 Playoff events – The Barclays. Who will win the second Playoff event, The Deutsche Bank Championship? There are still too many variables to predict who will walk away with the ultimate prize.

If you aren't out enjoying the final weeks of gorgeous summer weather on one of the Golf The High Sierras member courses yourself, be sure to watch the BMW Championship next weekend (September 10 -13, 2009) and then the culmination of FedExCup competition, THE TOUR Championship presented by Coca-Cola (September 24 – 27, 2009) to find out who will take home the 2009 FedExCup. Current standings are available online here.